

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

“To renew all things in Christ”

Saint Pius X
CATHOLIC CHURCH

Dear Friends, I have to admit that I am quite fond of Job, the biblical figure who is prominently featured in the first reading this weekend. He expresses, with such authentically honest sentiments, what we all want to say. In today's passage, he says, "Is not man's life on earth a drudgery?" Haven't we all thought the same thing at one time or another? Life seems to be such hard, never-ending work. Should we just resign ourselves to such an attitude?

Let's face it. We've all had our struggles. If we are breathing, we can be certain that we are going to be dealing with all kinds of trials, pains, laborious tasks, and obligations that warrant our attention. F. W. O'Malley puts it another way: "Life is just one [darned] thing after another." In other words, life is fraught with a constant barrage of challenges that wear on us. They remind us that we will not easily find rest in this existence. That's what heaven is for. With all of these things coming at us relentlessly each day, it is only natural that we might feel as though life is nothing but misery. Like Job, we may doubt that we will ever "see happiness again".

In this life, we cannot escape the fact that we will find many hardships. However, the Gospel from Mark illustrates that Jesus comes to make all things new. As Jesus exits the synagogue, he immediately begins to cure those who were afflicted with various diseases and illnesses. He starts to eradicate the hardships and afflictions that are a part of our human experience. This is all a sign that he has come to help lift the burden. He has come to restore and renew, to transform and change. This also demonstrates that Jesus does not desire life to be a drudgery. Rather, he desires to help us in the midst of our sufferings. He may not completely eliminate our daily challenges, but he surely will walk along with us through them. He will even help carry the burdens that we must carry.

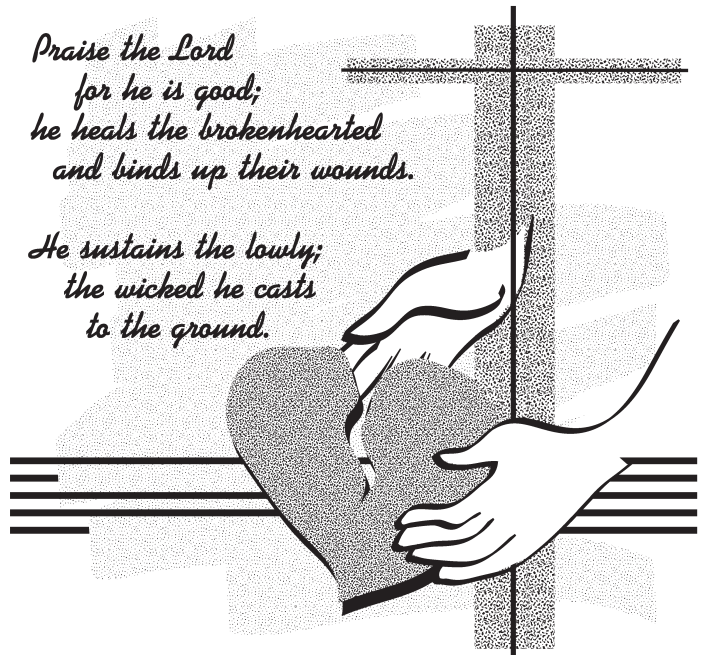

Not only does Jesus help us to carry our burdens, but also he gives them redemptive value. So, if we are struggling each day, he can make our struggles something that we can readily embrace and even love toward greater merit. If we face challenges at work, we can offer them up for a greater good. If we struggle in a relationship, provided that it is not abusive or dangerous, it can become something we bear with out of love. If we encounter responsibilities that are exhausting, it can become something that we persevere through to set an example of fidelity. It therefore, can become a mode of evangelization.

All of this has to be done in and through Jesus. The Gospel tells us that Jesus went off to a deserted place where he prayed in order to be renewed from his work. He entered into communion with the Father, so that he could carry the burdens of his daily work. If we are to allow our daily efforts to be transformative, we need the same communion with the Father. Rejuvenated by those moments of prayer, our work takes on an entirely new meaning. It becomes something that is not so much drudgery, but an act of love that feeds others and us spiritually. God bless!

Fr. Paul

*Praise the Lord
for he is good;
he heals the brokenhearted
and binds up their wounds.*

*He sustains the lowly;
the wicked he casts to the ground.*

Consecrated Life Sunday

Today the People of God, the Church, celebrates Consecrated Life Sunday. We recognize those who through the Evangelical Vows of Poverty, Celibate Chastity and Obedience, have given their lives in the service of God's people. We thank them for their dedication and we thank all of those who have supported them throughout their many years of service. Let us pray that those called to this way of life will answer in faith.

Catholic Stewardship Appeal

The 2012 Catholic Stewardship Appeal will be conducted in our parish next weekend. As Bishop Mulvey's vision to Strengthen Parish Life is being put into action, the Catholic Stewardship Appeal is an opportunity for you and other parishioners in the Diocese of Corpus Christi to support the many ministries of the Catholic Church. This year's Appeal provides an opportunity for a portion of the funds to be returned to the parishes that not only achieve their parish goal, but exceed that goal.

Please prayerfully consider your commitment to this year's Catholic Stewardship Appeal. As our Parish strives to unite as one in Christ with the faithful of the Diocese and work together to do His work we will see ourselves being good stewards of the many gifts the Lord provides each and everyone of us.

Blessed Palms

Do you have blessed palms at home? If so, please bring them NO LATER than Monday, February 20 so they can be burned prior to Ash Wednesday. There is a box in the back of the church for them. The source of ashes to be blessed on the 22nd are these old palms.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Congratulations to the following class that had perfect attendance this week:

Sacramental Prep II a Mr. & Mrs. Anzualda

I know this time of the year there are many things going on. However, Religious Education should be at the top of the priority list. In the end all things will be passing, but our faith and our relationship with God will not if we have nurtured it in ourselves and in our children. So, parents, please bring your children to class each Wednesday.

School News

By Principal Kathy Clark

Today marks the official ending of National Catholic Schools Week. It has been a very exciting, fast-paced week for the students and staff of St. Pius X Catholic School. Every day was filled with activities. If you happen to see any of our teachers or aides with their eyes crossed and tongues hanging out, understand that they never had a down moment the entire week. We need a week off to recuperate after a week like this past one!

So what was so exhausting about the week, you wonder? Well, it started out with a parade through the neighborhood on Monday morning. It was a great parade, replete with a fire truck that led the way, a marching band provided by John Paul II High School, a 1928 Model A Ford provided by Mrs. Didear that Fr. Paul and the principal rode in, and lots of excited children proudly sporting banners proclaiming National Catholic Schools Week – St. Pius X style! The parade ended at our new playground that was blessed by Fr. Paul Hesse. Channel 3 was on hand to film the event and gave our school great publicity—free of charge! It was a great way to start off a great week!

On Tuesday, our Book Character Dress Day brought out a lot of book characters. Paraded in front of the camera on our televised Morning Announcements were book characters such as Fancy Nancy, Sherlock Holmes, Nancy Drew, the Hardy Boys, Snow White and many more. That evening our talented students entertained parents and fellow students at our Annual Talent Show. There were singers, dancers, gymnasts, comedians and students who played the guitar, violin and piano. Each was given a certificate and edible microphone at the end of the show. Many thanks go to the show's producers, Mrs. Ramos, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Vasquez and Mrs. Van Maren.

On Wednesday Channel 5, KIII-TV featured one of our 6th grade students, Aaron Martin, as the 3-Star Student. Aaron is the son of Bob and Gracie Martin and was given the award because he exemplifies what a Blue Jay student is. Not only is he kind and respectful, he is also helpful to his teachers and classmates. Aaron is a Boy Scout, a member of the Student Council, and a great athlete. He is a good sport both on and off the court, and he excels in academics. It is easy to see why he was named our 3-Star Student. Wednesday was also our Crazy Hat Day, a day to sport all kinds of funny and exotic hats.

On Thursday morning, 40 of our students competed in our school Spelling Bee that went 11 rounds before a winner was declared! Congratulations to Esme' McMullan, the champion, who out-spelled all the others, and Evan Pangilinan, who came in second. He will serve as the alternate. Both students are 6th graders in Mrs. Urbis' class. In the middle of the bee, the school had to go into a lock-down because of an incident that happened at St.

Bartholomew's Academy across Airline St. near the school. The spelling bee went on without a hitch, however, and the students and family members in the audience were treated to refreshments while they waited for the clear sign from the police department. We were happy to have our new WatchDOGS parent, Leonard Mitchell, on campus that day to help keep us safe. He is a member of a program that involves dads and father figures working in the school. We just got the program kicked off this past week!

On Thursday evening, we held our Open House from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. Many new parents and their children came to check out our Blue Ribbon school. Our Advisory Council and PTO officers were on-hand to greet them, and our Student Council members acted as ambassadors and tour guides. Pre-registration begins this week for our currently enrolled students. The following week it will be open to parishioners and then the public. If you know of anyone interested in providing a great Catholic education for their child(ren), send them our way.

We had College T-shirt Dress Day on Friday, along with a basketball game between our parents and 6th graders. That was certainly fun to watch. And today, our 6th graders are hosting a Waffle Breakfast from 9:00 – 12:00 in the Parish Hall. Our school Mass takes place at the 12:00 Mass, so if you attend that Mass, you will see our students in uniform participating as altar servers, choir members, lectors and gift bearers. It will be a great ending to a fabulous, but exhausting week!

On Wednesday of this coming next week our 2nd grade students will make their First Reconciliation. They participated in a retreat last Saturday. We will keep them in our prayers on this special day.

Our school Rummage Sale is right around the corner on Saturday, February 18. If you wish to donate items, you can bring them by the parish hall anytime during the week before. We will accept anything, large or small, working or non-working. If you don't have anything to donate, but want to get some good bargains, plan to attend. It will be open from 7:00 a.m. until 12:00. Have a blessed week!

Former Parishioners Celebrate 40 years!

We welcome Tom & Debra Broderick of Ft. Worth, TX, back to St. Pius X Parish this weekend. They are celebrating 40 years of faithful marriage. They were joined together in marriage on Feb. 4, 1972 with Msgr. Michael Adams officiating. Through their love, they have been blessed with two sons, Brian & David. They have returned to St. Pius to remember where their lives together began. Tom & Debra are now members of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish in Ft. Worth.

Blood Drive

We will be conducting a Blood Drive here at St. Pius next Sunday, February 12 from 9AM to 12PM. Every participant gets a free t-shirt and a Sonic coupon. There is also a weekly drawing for a $200 gift certificate courtesy of Liberty Tax Service! Give the gift of life!
