

Second Sunday of Lent

Dear Friends: Have you ever wished you could capture a moment and make it last forever? Perhaps you've wished that you could prolong the beauty of a sunset or extend the calming effect of the sound of the surf on the beach. Maybe you would have liked to draw out the joy of a child taking his or her first steps or continued the thrill of a concert. There is a certain aspect to time that is relentless and special moments are fleeting. We wish that we could hang on to certain experiences and protract them into the future, but they seem to somehow escape us.

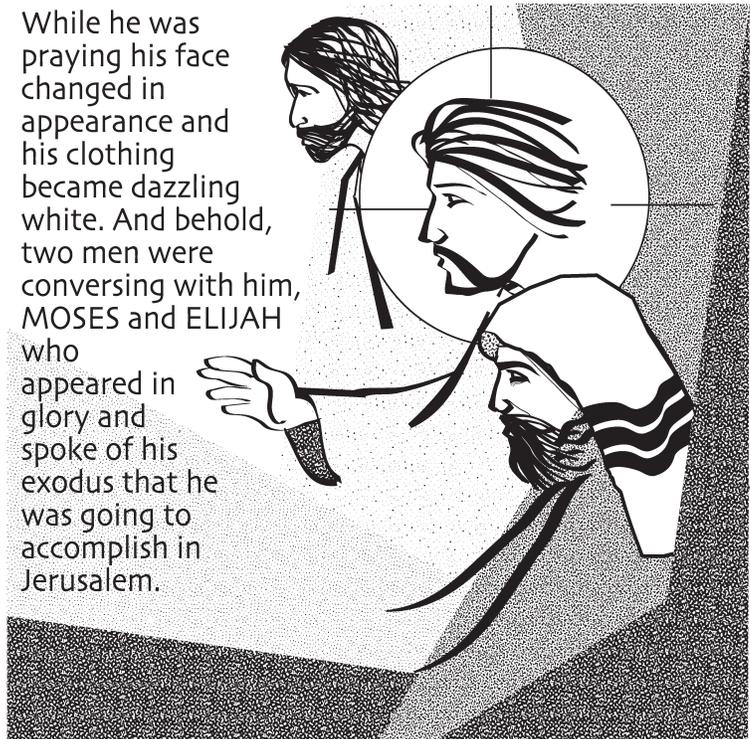

In some respects we attempt to catch these moments with photographs. We snap a shot so that we can somehow seize a moment and perpetuate it. Every time we look at a photo, we relive that moment in some way or it evokes feelings and memories that move us. Yet, no matter how much we look at a photo, we never fully encapsulate the original experience in the same way or with the same intensity. Time always marches on to new experiences, leaving the old behind.

There is no doubt that Peter wanted to capture the moment of the Transfiguration that is so masterfully portrayed in the Gospel today. He says, "Master, it is good that we are here; let us make three tents, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." Peter wanted to preserve the experience of Jesus' transfiguration because it was an awesome experience of Christ's glory. It was not to be, though. The three had to come down from the mountaintop and return to the reality of daily life. Even if that daily life held many struggles and challenges, they could always hearken back to that experience and find something to sustain them through the crosses that they might endure.

So often in our lives, we strive to perpetuate happiness. We seem to always want to be on the mountaintop. We look for constant highs and we seek to keep ourselves emotionally uplifted. That is often the nature of addiction and the constant pursuit for the spectacular. We even want religion to be that way. We look to reclaim spiritual highs and think that something is wrong if we don't feel it.

If we only expect faith to give us a spiritual high, then our understanding of faith lacks a certain depth. Faith must also involve the cross. It sometimes involves agony, just as Christ endured agony in the garden. Our Lenten observances help us to appreciate this fact. The penance, the fasting, and the almsgiving, all help us to see the sacrificial nature of faith and the redemptive value in suffering. It disciplines us so that we are not always attached to hype. Occasionally, God gives us glimpses into his glory and lifts our spirits through graced moments. These times are wonderful and bring us consolation to sustain us throughout those times when we struggle. It is good to have experiences of the mountaintop. We may even wish we could capture them and keep them alive, but we know that a mature faith is one that does not depend

While he was praying his face changed in appearance and his clothing became dazzling white. And behold, two men were conversing with him, MOSES and ELIJAH who appeared in glory and spoke of his exodus that he was going to accomplish in Jerusalem.

School News

By Principal Kathy Clark

This past week was not a very busy week, as weeks go, around St. Pius X Catholic School. But it was a special one for our 2nd graders. They made their First Reconciliation on Thursday at 10:00 a.m. They were so excited to do so. Fr. Bob Dunne from Most Precious Blood Church assisted Fr. Paul with the confessions. Some of the children thought they had to go to confession to both priests! They got a nice compliment from Fr. Bob afterwards. He told Fr. Paul that the children were very well prepared! We can thank their teacher, Mrs. Daehne for that. She does a great job of getting them ready for this important Sacrament. When it comes time for their First Communion in May, you can bet that they will be ready for that Sacrament, also. It's one of the perks of going to a Catholic school. The children not only receive religious instruction daily in class, they also attend Mass during the week, and they participate in the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd program in the Atrium. It makes them knowledgeable and appreciative of their Catholic faith.

Pre-registration for the 2013-2014 school year is going well. Our K-5 class is already full with a waiting list, and the Early Childhood classes of K-3 and K-4 are almost full. Our numbers are already better than they were last year at this time. Pre-registration is now open to the public, so if you know of anyone who wants to provide a great Catholic education for their child(ren), send them our way. We would love to give them a tour of the school and show off our Blue Jays students.

The next week will be a little bit more active as we take class group pictures, celebrate Manner of the Month with our mannerly students, participate in Stations of the Cross, and have a noon dismissal day. Next Sunday is our school Mass at 12:00, so you can be assured that you will see many of our students in uniform serving as lectors, altar servers, gift bearers and choir members.

Our 10th Annual Golf Classic is gaining more sponsors and teams every day. Having the tournament at the Corpus Christi Country Club is a good drawing card, it seems. Those who don't normally get to play golf there will have a chance to play on this nice course. It's happening on Friday, April 5, 2013, at 12:00. If you are interested in playing in this fun tournament, contact the school at 992-1343. We will send you a form for signing up. The day will include lunch by Jason's Deli, nice prizes for the top winners, a live and silent auction at the awards ceremony after the play, and a great raffle.

Speaking of the raffle, those raffle tickets that were mailed to parishioners back in January will need to be returned to the school by March 25. The stubs and money can be mailed or dropped off at the school office or rectory. The lucky winners will be determined at the golf tournament. You do not have to be present to win. We are still looking for a few sponsors, so if you own a business and are interested in being a sponsor, please let us know.

Health Corner

Being that we're almost at the end of February, known nationally as 'Heart Health Month' allow me to share what follows:

“Get Healthy with Life’s Simple 7”

This simple, seven-step list has been developed to help you improve your heart health.

Get Active If you get at least 30 minutes of moderated physical activity each day (like brisk walking), five times per week, you can almost guarantee yourself a healthier and more satisfying life while lowering your risks for heart disease, stroke and diabetes. Children need 60 minutes of exercise a day – every day.

Control Cholesterol Your liver and your body's cells make about 75% of the cholesterol in your blood. The other 25% comes from your food. The American Heart Association recommends the following: Eat healthy foods that are low in cholesterol, trans fats and saturated fats. A lifestyle change to selecting foods that are high in fiber also helps keep cholesterol levels controlled. Schedule a cholesterol screening and stay current on your health check-ups. Get active. When you exercise, you increase your body's ability to make good cholesterol.

Eat Better A healthy diet is one of your best weapons for fighting cardiovascular disease. The KEY: Lowering your saturated and trans fat, sodium and added sugars will give you a big boost! Selecting foods high in whole grain fiber, lean protein and a variety of colorful fruits and vegetables will improve your chances for staying healthy!

Manage Blood Pressure High blood pressure is the single most significant risk factor for heart disease. Normal blood pressure will help you reduce the strain on your heart, arteries, and kidneys which keeps you healthier longer. Good news! High blood pressure is manageable. Normal is less than 120 mm Hg systolic (first number) AND less than 80 mm Hg diastolic (second number) <120/80 the lifestyle modifications listed here may reduce your blood pressure without the use of prescription medications: Eating a heart-healthy diet, which includes reducing sodium; enjoying regular physical activity and maintaining a healthy weight; managing stress; limiting alcohol; and avoiding tobacco smoke!

MORE TIPS COMING NEXT WEEK!
